GoGolf

MOBILE APPLICATION & WEBSITE

Focusing on the online golf course reservation service that did not exist in Indonesia at the time, this product was launched as a new business of the company. After selecting the golf course, date, and tee time you want to play from the app, send a reservation request and make the payment on the app. Previously, golfers had to call the golf course to check availability and then make a reservation, but this app makes it smarter and easier for golfers to make reservations.

Currently, it is the No. 1 golf course reservation app in Asia that allows you to easily make reservations for golf courses in Southeast Asia such as Indonesia, Malaysia, and Singapore with your smartphone. Since its release, the number of cumulative registered users has reached over 25,000, and the number of linked golf courses has reached over 100, and is still growing.

Idemitsu Loyalti Apps

Project from PT Idemitsu Lube Techno Indonesia, an Indonesian subsidiary of Idemitsu Kosan.

In Indonesia, customers form their own communities in each region, and we received requests to manage those communities, provide product information and reward points for each community, and conduct community rankings based on the number of points. I developed a mobile application.

We also support community and point management, the latest product information, store information distribution, event information distribution, and point linkage with POS systems.
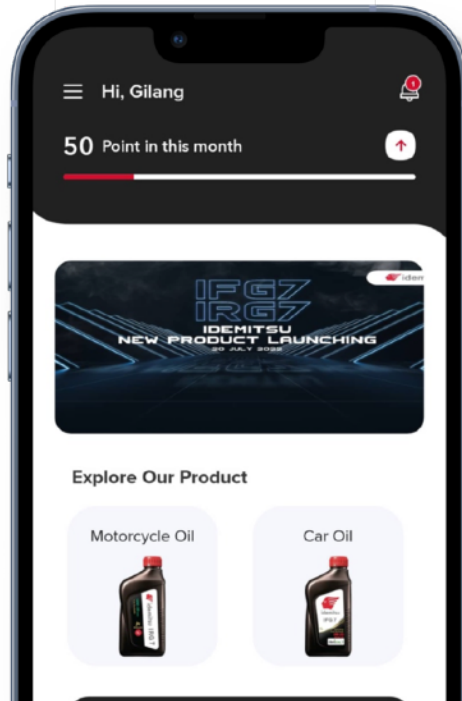

We have built a management dashboard system (CRM) for Idemitsu, and are synchronizing and linking the data on the mobile app.
